

Real estate investment trends and opportunities in Iberia: Spain & Portugal

Date and time:

May 20

18:00h CEST

Duration : 1:30h

The impact of the Covid crisis on the real estate market has boosted new opportunities for companies and funds in this field. The conversion of the hotel assets into new uses, the need of spurring some industries such as logistics or retail, the development of new housing areas or the emergence of new products such as coliving or coworking, put the Iberian market in Spain and Portugal in the spotlight of the international investments.

Andersen has identified the most profitable opportunities and key points to consider when making an investment in order to avoid risks and maximize profits based on a strategic tax planning. We would like to invite you to discuss this in a webinar organized on May 20 at 6pm CEST.
